(3) Guarantee life insurance policies existing at the time of socialization.

(4) Abide by the decision of the Exchequer Court regarding compensation of the shareholders.

(5) Aid in the establishment of provincially owned and co-operative companies which will provide general insurance.

THE LIBERAL AMENDMENT:

Delete whereas No. 1, 2, and 4. Include: Whereas life insurance rates are unreasonably high "for low income groups" — therefore delete No. 1, 3, 4, 5.

Admit No. 2 — i.e. to establish a crown company to provide adequate life insurance at low rates. And add:

—to admit more reasonable medical examinations.

—that there should be a limit to the amount of life insurance held by an individual.

—that the premiums paid by the gov. when an individual is out of work should be subject to unemployment insurance regulations.

—that the payments of premiums should cease at the age of 65.

—that no policies should be sold to persons over the age of 60.

Curtain Rises On Dawsonites' Comedy Show

"Music, Curtains, Action", will be the password tonight at eight thirty, when the curtain is raised on the 49 Dawson Players Club edition of "Murder with Orchids" in T-1. The price is $0.50 per person, and for theatre goers at McGill, a block of seats has been reserved so that everyone will be satisfied.

The cast, reportedly one of the best ever assembled on the St. John stage, is already marking time awaiting the curtain tonight. They include Brian Bourke, playing the part of Addison Kinkaid, a miser in the banking business. Brian is no stranger to the stage, having taken part in last year's production.

The part of his wife is taken by Phyllis Kiernan. Ivy Cambell, who has taken part in a number of troop shows, is taking the part of Clarice Morton, a step daughter who, is head over heels in love with Clark Benton, taken by Pierre St. Denis, a genuine French amour artist. Agnes Orlick, takes the part of Valentine Pyne, a lovesick friend of the family who has come for a weekend visit. But the card of the show is Bill McCallum, the county sheriff. Bill took part in last year's show and is the comic on the stage.

Hazel Harvey, takes the part of Merry, the maid, a dumb and superstitious girl. Lorne Elliot plays Horace Jepson, a frustrated bachelor. One of the main character presentations of the night is done by Pamela Kipnis who takes the part of Clara Holloway, a mysterious housekeeper.

Kennedy First Daily Speaker Of New Series

Roderick Kennedy, B.S.A., will be the first speaker in the new lecture series offered by the McGill Daily. The opening lecture will be given on Thursday, February 10, at 1 p.m. in the Union.

Mr. Kennedy is well qualified to discuss the fundamentals of Journalism. He was introduced to the field by his father, who was city editor of the Montreal Witness. In his college days at MacDonald he worked on the student newspaper. Later, on his return from service in the first World War, he joined the staff of the Montreal Star. In 1939, he began his career on the Family Herald and the Weekly Star, where he has been ever since. In addition to his newspaper work, Mr. Kennedy has written a novel, "The Road South", which relates the experiences of two McGill men in the first World War.

The Daily annually presents these lectures, which are designed to correlate the practical work of Daily reporters with the theoretical aspect of Journalism. Staff members of "Le Quartier Latin" have been invited to attend the series.

Carden Choreography Lauded by Producer

Choreographer of this year's edition of the Red and White Revue is George Carden. According to Fred Barnes, producer of this all-new Revue, "Find Mr. Carden was one of the best things that could have happened to the show."

"His ideas for choreography are new and different. Combining good routines, hard work and some twenty lovely co-ed, Mr. Carden has produced dancing sequences for this year show which should surpass those of previous years."

Born in Australia, Mr. Carden received his early training there, before setting out to England to further his career. Landing in England he continued his training and danced in the chorus in various musical comedies. After a year or all-new Revue, "Find Mr. Carden was one of the best things that could have happened to the show."

UBC Advertisement Discourages Buyers

Vancouver — (C.U.P.) — There is at least one honest advertiser on the University of British Columbia campus.

An advertisement posted on a notice board is overpowering in portraying the virtues of a motorcycle.

The ad reads as follows:

"For sale. One decrepit motorcycle in exceptionally poor condition. Anyone who is crazy enough to think this is a good buy is a fool and a moron."

Comm. Stages Banquet Night

ATTENTION COMMERCE MEN

Max Ford of Montreal will be the guest speaker at the Commerce Banquet on Thursday night February 10th. Mr. Ford is one of the leading figures in the business world and the serious side of his speech will be devoted to informing the commerce men what opportunities they have to look forward to when they leave McGill. Tickets are .75 and can be purchased at the Union Truck Shop and from the Commerce Executive, Ted Blake, Mel Dultz, Eric Barry and Clive Reade. Since there are only accommodations for 125 students, the commerce men are urged to purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

Well, look who's here . . .

Whoever it is this quartet is looking at, there can be little doubt that she has three sure votes when the students go to the polls next Monday to elect the Queen of the McGill Winter Carnival. From left to right we have a member of the S.E.C., a representative of the Montreal press, the vice-chairman of the McGill Winter Carnival committee, and last year's Queen, Betty Snelair, at the left, carefully scrutinizes the young lady. Second from left is Bill Edwards, a member of the staff of the "Star," obviously figuring out an "angle."

Next in line, Jacques Tetrauli, financial wizard of the Carnival Committee is keeping his mind on his job by pondering over figures. Last, but certainly not least, Sue Bishop, recalling last year's glory as Queen, has her mind made up, too . . . but who cares about her mind?

The photo was snapped at the elimination tea held for Carnival Queen candidates in the Union last Wednesday, when the S.E.C. cut the list of campus belles to the five on which students are to vote next Monday, which coincidentally happens to be St. Valentine's Day.

Blake Sewell To Play At Athletics Night III

Slated for 8 p.m. in the Currie Gym on Thursday, Feb. 17th, Athletics Night III will feature the music of Blake Sewell and his orchestra at the dance to follow the sports events. This was made public at a meeting of the executive yesterday and marks the first time that the Sewell group has performed at one of these festivals.

Blake Sewell Band Well-known in Metropolitan Montreal, Blake Sewell will be presented as part of the regular Athletics Night card on Thursday eve of your Carnival calendar. McGill students will be given the opportunity to see these music-makers, along with usual sports aggregations, for the standard Athletics Night rate of $1. Under a special contract made with Sewell, this will make it possible for students to dance till 1 a.m. for a price at least half the down-town rate.

As another special presentation at the traditional sports festival, the Athletics Night Chorus line is slated to re-appear with some new routines and costumes designed especially to be in keeping with the Carnival spirit. Miss Barbara Birkett, trainer of the precision line, withheld her girls from the second Athletics Night held last month so that they could be saved for this Carnival event. Now in daily rehearsals (the time and place being kept secret for security reasons, the new line of some 25 co-eds is shaping up admirably.

Gymkana Feature The sports card will offer another Athletics Night innovation in the form of a gymkana to be presented by the Physical Education department. Some different group exercises are to be staged by the girls of the department, to be accompanied by lighting effects relatively new to the field of gym-work. To round out this portion of the program, some of the muscle-bound boys are expected to swing from the high bar, showing off their accomplishments in the field of higher gymnastics.

BASKETBALL TILT The main gym will be the scene of the McGill-Y.M.H.A. basketball tilt while in the small gym adjoining, Mill Orr's red pugilists will come to blows with one of the local clubs, possibly University of Montreal. The boxing card, always a popular event, has been lengthened and will last some two hours. Downstairs, the squash courts will be the site of an exhibition tourney between the red racketmen and a local group. Movies will again be continuously shown in the B.W. and F. gym and one of the feature films is to be Luggi Foeger's technicolor production "Ski Pro's" holiday.

Tickets, which will be handled by the Winter Carnival, are to go on sale in all major campus buildings on Thursday.

P.C. CLUB The weekly meeting of the Progressive Conservative Club will take place in the Music Room of the Union at 1:00 o'clock today. Elections will be held at this meeting for delegates to the Student Federation Annual Meeting. Other important business such as consideration of resolutions and plans for the Model Parliament will take place. Members are reminded that the meeting will take place in the Music Room NOT the New Room.

Returning Officer Issues Call for Nomination Lists For Main Executive Posts

Find of 100 Dollars Boosts UBC Fund

Vancouver — (C.U.P.) — The treasurer of the students' council at the University of British Columbia was puzzled recently when he discovered a hundred dollars tucked away in an obscure corner of a ledger.

Eventually he found out that it had been set aside several years ago for the purpose of displaying historical films.

The council wasted no time in rushing through a resolution which resulted in the disappearance of the hundred dollars into the murky depths of the general fund.

Proceeds to Help D.P.'s

Toronto. — (C.U.P.) — The complete proceeds from the Pi Lambda Phi Charity Ball this year will go towards the education of two displaced persons here in Canada.

"It is hoped that the higher education of two of these new citizens of Canada may be facilitated as a result of these efforts," stated a member of the Charity Ball executive today. "We think that our goal this year is perhaps especially appropriate in view of the ever-increasing importance of rehabilitating those who have come to Canada to begin a new life," he continued.

The Charity Ball to be held on Saturday, Feb. 5, at the King Edward Hotel will be under the patronage of President and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, the Hon. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Steinhardt, who in addition to being the new U.S. Ambassador to Canada, is Supreme Rex of the fraternity, and Col. and Mrs. David Croll.

Audience Sees Dress Rehearsal of Revue

Fred Barnes, in an unprecedented move, last night opened the doors on the final dress rehearsal of this year's Red and White Revue.

In the audience, which numbered about 400, were members of the local press and radio, several students and 100 veterans who were invited from the Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital. The purpose of the move was explained by Mr. Barnes.

"Not only are we trying to show people just what goes on in a dress rehearsal, we also want the new members of the cast to play before a live audience and more or less get the feel of it."

Apparently the idea was a good one, because the audience seemed to enjoy the show.

Musical Comedy This year's show is a musical comedy with a complete story line, rather than merely a disjointed Revue. As is the way with most shows but not with previous editions of the Revue, the story line was written first, and then the music, lyrics, skits and scenery were "tailored to fit" so to speak.

The music and chorus line forms one of the strongest points of the show. With specially written numbers by Stan Martin and Ray Wolvin, both veterans of previous shows, and the dancing sequences by George Carden, a close contact with the show has been obtained.

New Ideas Introduced On top of this many new ideas have been tried. In one scene a "Heavenly Audition," a new effect has been achieved by using a set completely devoid of scenery or props. The setting is an audition in a rehearsal hall, and as Technical Director, Bill Whiteacre pointed out, you don't use scenery in rehearsals.

Another new feature is the addition of ramps to the Moyse Hall stage. Parts of the action take place on the ramps, on either side of the stage, and a novel effect is thus introduced. These ramps have had to be heavily reinforced as the "Heavenly Producer," Bill Nichols of football fame, and his company of assistants make good use of them for their important parts.

The orchestra was directed by Stan Martin, with orchestrations by the conductor and Violet MacDonald, Canada's only woman jazz orchestrator.

Conductor Caught With Pants Down

Toronto — (C.U.P.) — During a recent performance by the University of Toronto Symphony Orchestra a sudden slackening was noticed in the trousers of the conductor, Harold Neal. It was while they were coming to the grand finale of Faure's Requiem that the buttons on Neal's suspenders became unattached. Neal, without halting his baton waving, reached around, hitched up his trousers, and continued reaching for the high note that had caused his let-down.

When questioned about his accident, Neal said, "If the worst had come to the worst, I would have continued the score because I was wearing a freshly-laundered pair of shorts."

An added attraction to the program featuring the Deep River Boys will be the appearance of the candidates for the "Carnival Queen" title — Cynthia Powell, Pego McNaughton, Gay Elkington, Beryl Dickinson-Dash, and Mercia Forde.

The Deep River Boys stated that they were very happy to help the progress of the YWCA Campaign. During their stay in Montreal, they have played for many benefits, including in their schedule performances at veterans' hospitals.

Auditions for English Drama Now Being Held

Casting for the English Department's production of Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" has begun with auditions under the direction of Frank Ford, Technical Director for English 260, who has temporarily assumed the duties of Director of Dramatic Productions during the absence of Professor Elmer Hall.

Owing to the fact that "She Stoops to Conquer" represents a period in English Drama covering the life and times of the early Eighteenth Century, thereby making the task of correct and exact casting more difficult than usual, the Committee on dramatic productions for English 260 have decided on a new and slightly modified policy.

EUROPEAN EXCHANGE SCHOLARSHIPS

The McGill International Student Service committee is working on a plan to bring European students to our campus next year. The plan is to bring at least four students, two of whom would be students now living in camps in Europe as Displaced Persons. The other two would be from European universities.

Similar plans are being sponsored by I.S.S. committees on campuses across Canada and these plans are being given strong support. The following editorial is a viewpoint on the scheme expressed by the Toronto Varsity:

The twentieth century seems to be marked out as the age of "man bites man". That impression has a lot to justify it. We seem to be constantly quarrelling or fighting or arguing with our neighbors at home or with national neighbors across the border. That wasn't such a catastrophe in the last century. Our harried existence today indicates the need for positive measures to help us while "living in a crisis."

Modern communication methods magnify the differences and make for mere superficial contact. We don't know as much as we like to think about the happenings in our own country let alone in some land separated from us by barriers of currency, frontier, language or culture. The dangers of modern war—the atom bomb, bacteriological warfare or continental starvation and the like, we hear about every day. Misrepresentation, an error in interpretation or just plain ignorance may be all that is needed to shove us over the brink. The presence of someone on the councils of the other nations who understands what we mean and how we feel, someone to restrain impetuosity or blind prejudice, someone to act as a link and to spread the truth, would be a godsend. Ignorance on the international level should be feared equally with the atom bomb.

Certainly this is a question that is far removed from the universities and students—or is it? We fear ignorance and press hard against it in our country. Today we in North America accidentally possess the key to open the barriers of finance and frontiers in the wider world. Such an opportunity is being presented to students of this and every other Canadian university. The International Students Service of Canada has taken up a plan offered it by Canadian students, who themselves saw the need of action, to bring European students to Canada for a year of study.

An appropriate title for this project would be "Scholarships for Intellectual Reconstruction." We at this University can play a part in moulding international friendship. When we send material help overseas as we do with ISS relief, we send sympathy and goodwill. This is valuable, but such relief cannot alone carry ideas that will continue in the future. That over-worked phrase "intellectual vacuum" does carry meaning. Most of us realize that war and oppression left such vacuum not only in books or in food or in information but also in "know-how" about such things as democratic government, academic freedom, and liberty of the press.

A year's scholarship for some interested, intelligent and active European students would have an incalculably valuable effect when they return to their own lands. It will be good for us to learn at first hand the values, the dangers and the effects of foreign attitudes. We will gain in the future for they will be an appreciative and friendly audience in a place that has become not so far away and not so strange. We are proud of our institutions, of our culture, and of our life in Canada. It might even pay us in the long run to be generous. The local committee of ISS presents a plan that will benefit all concerned. The local committee will be responsible to the Dominion government for these European students. This is not a light obligation and it deserves the full support of all students.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Off To The Yukon

Dear Sir,—
Who so base as would brand the gospel according to Frank Palen, Thomas Ranklin and Jan Munk as "Capitalistic propaganda?"

A cheer for the creators of such democratic ideas—A cheer for the possessors of such cunning imagination.

As an enthusiastic proponent of the new decree, may I suggest that we send the honourable gentlemen Frank Palen, Thomas Ranklin and Jan Munk up the Yukon River. There, without B.V.D.'s, they might lay the foundation of their power plan. I may even suggest that they build it as a private enterprise, in accordance with the western style.

WILLIAM A. TRIEST.

Right Face

Dear Sir:—
In the Friday's issue of the Daily a statement made by the ex-members of the former L.P.P. Club executive was published containing the following allegation: "We are very shocked at this action in view of the fact that when members of the executive of the PC club took illegal steps against the Student Labor Club and were reprimanded for their action by the SEC, there was no suggestion of any collective punishment for the PC Club."

It is not our intention to project ourselves into the present trials and tribulations of the former LPP Club, nor do we wish to give any added publicity to this vicious and pathetic minority which is now rather busy shedding crocodile tears over the supposed "disappearance" of democracy on the Campus—as the result of the disciplinary action taken against the former LPP Club by the elected student authorities.

We wish, however, to point out that the above quoted statement is totally unfounded as no member of the PC Club's executive was ever reprimanded by the SEC for his efforts to give the SEC a more representative character. We hope that in the future the ex-members of the former LPP Club will try to restrict their statements to their own persons.

Zbigniew Brzezinski
Jack Bowie-Reed.

Left Turn

Dear Sir:—
Several prominent members of the Progressive-Conservative Party Club of McGill University last term attempted to stage an illegal "coup d'etat" by having themselves

"elected" to the executive of the Student Labor Club. Their admittedly illegal and unconstitutional action was condemned by the student body and reversed by the democratic elections held under the auspices of the SEC.

At that time there was no question of collectively punishing or suspending the P.C. Club of which these individuals were and are leading members. (It is interesting to note that their ambition to lead more than one club on our campus has now been realized, since some of their names appear prominently among the executives of the newly-hatched Union Nationale Club.) Both the P.C. and the N.U. Clubs are apparently flourishing, and undisturbed by any attempt to suspend their activities.

This is as it should be! But another political club of views, strongly opposed to those of both P.C.s and the U.N. has had its constitution suspended, on the grounds that three of its leading members are accused of infractions of union regulations. What an astounding contrast! There seems to be a double standard here, and the political complexion of the party concerned seems to determine the standard to be applied. McGill has been a democratic oasis in this province of the Padlock Law. Is this province a mirage?

CHAMBER MUSIC

The fourth concert of the McGill Chamber Music Society will take place on Tuesday evening, Feb. 8 at 8:30 in Moyse Hall, McGill University. Raffaele Masella will be guest artist and will be heard in the Mozart Clarinet Quintet, K581 in A Major. Mr. Masella has studied for two years in Paris, achieving the Premier Prix at the National Conservatorium of Music and last Spring he was awarded first prize at the International Music Competition in Switzerland.

The rest of the program will consist of Purcell's Suite, the Chacony Quartet for Strings in G Minor and the Bloch String Quartet No. 1, two rarely played works.

The audience is reminded that the concert will begin promptly and that the doors will be closed at 8:30.

THIS WILL GO OVER WELL WITH ALL GROUPS.....

Because of their vices, women have ceased to deserve the privileges of their sex; they have put off their womanly nature and are therefore condemned to suffer the diseases of men.

Seneca; Epistulae as Lucilius. The wind around the corner whispers to me, and I whisper back: O, rollicking wind, have you seen her? Found her? And the shivering wind moans and says no.

Between the Roddick Gates there is the interminable click-clack of light, shiny shoes... the rustle of newspapers... the blousy moutons, the sharp tongues, the high-pitched cries... the sharp, knowing glint of the eye; the risqué remark: Well, c'mon up 'n see me—some-time? Unnatural laughter: Hee-haw. Click-clack. Click-clack.

So I wonder a woman, the Mistress of Hearts, Should descend to aspire to be Master of Arts; A Ministering Angel in woman we see. And an angel need cover no other Degree.

O, cruel Charles Neaves, too cruel. Nevertheless, is there not too much of a tilt to the balance? Is there not that shining crystal of warm, flashing light amidst the gloom of wars, and hatred, and bloodshed... and frustration? A bubble in the desert? A woman? "Why honey-bunch! Sure, call me up for a date. I'll need a week or so to think it over, but call me up anyhow. Say, what are your political views? I've forgotten, it's so long long. Gimme a ring some-time. Hee-haw, hee... tee... hee-haw. Good joke. Heard it years, oh years and years... ago, though. By the way, d'ja look over your Deltatheridium yet? O, you knowwww..."

Click-clack. New Look. New Look. New Look. Well?

What's in a name? Women, 1949 edition. The pages turn, and the carnival marches on. The red painted faces dotted with pinches of mascara and the noses in the air...

Blouses with white, snowy, shirtings whistling in the wind and stockings only halfway up... red suits, green suits, yellow suits with or without battery sets... chiseled countenances flouting their clicks of the shoes. Everything going bang, bang, bang.

"Women and linen show best by candlelight."

O, for the soft, gentle touch of the feminine finger upon the cheek; the women like honeybees with wide, panniered skirts and tight bodices; the rustle, gently, gently, of the pink frills. Once again the light flurry of the fan, the sparkling gay, uninhibited laughter; the heart beating faster, the romance that was rich, red wine to the soul. Or perhaps the vigorous healthy cheeks of the farm girl, the light breeze running madly around the golden strands of long loose hair. An understanding glance, a sympathy. A warm kiss. A lovely girl. Spin the calendar! "Yeah, I love you... but don't forget the second chapter of Pliny, and my mother. You're the only one Joe... why, Jim and John and Harry and Mike and etcetera, don't mean a thing... REELY! I'm a career woman, you know. Sentimentality? Why Joe, this is... 1949." THIS COLUMN-AGAIN

By RANDY PHILLIPS

If one regards one's calendar, and confers with the Dates Committee, one will become aware of the imminent presentation of a traditional undergraduate function... the Red and White Revue. This show has a tradition of its own, and this tradition is perennial in its occurrence. Even more than that, it is liable to manifest itself more than once in each year. The tradition is one of misfortune. Without labored reminiscence most of us can remember the calamity of the non-existent orchestra of last year's presentation; and it is not so long ago that we were all informed of the loss of the tradition surrounding the Revue.

Most student participation activities are designed for a select group of students... those who are most interested in the particular activity. The Revue, however, is designed to entertain the entire campus, and the outer world of the city. Compared to the difficulties involved in presentation of student-appreciated functions of the more select nature, the organization of the Revue is a very complex and arduous problem.

The staff employed by the appointed producer of the Revue is a large and assorted one. Students from every faculty are actively engaged in every form of preparation and presentation. Though our university student presentation does not boast of it, it can truly be called an "All-Varsity Show."

But all this is niggling propaganda, even though it is the truth, and must be dispensed with in favor of more important considerations. What we must all remember is this: the Red and White Revue is a student production, directed and acted by students, lighted and painted by students, administered and constructed by students, for student entertainment. It is not a professional show. Let us, then, disregard the bleats of the press, whatever complexion they may put upon it, and see the show for ourselves. If it is good, and this column is certain it will be, your attendance will be an assurance of an excellent performance the following year; for the actor plays for his public, and not for the press.

Again, another important consideration is that the Red and White Revue is a student production, directed and acted by students, lighted and painted by students, administered and constructed by students, for student entertainment. It is not a professional show. Let us, then, disregard the bleats of the press, whatever complexion they may put upon it, and see the show for ourselves. If it is good, and this column is certain it will be, your attendance will be an assurance of an excellent performance the following year; for the actor plays for his public, and not for the press.

Y.M.H.A. Blues Defeat Dawson in M.B.L. Encounter

Score Tied at Half Waxman Paces Late Victory Drive

By JACK ABRAMS

After tying the game up at half time and leading in the second period, the Dawson Seniors finally succumbed to the Y.M.H.A. by a score of 59-36 at Orlick Gym last night.

Throughout the initial period the frenzied Dawson fans watched their team forced the Blues to play their brand of ball and emerge at half time on terms with the MBL leaders.

The first half started off at a fast pace with Dawson grabbing a quick lead. Although the 'Y' displayed fluent passing and close checking, the Dawsonites played a slow careful type of game throughout.

Varsity Unfortunate Writes Extra Exam

Toronto—(C.U.P.)—A member of the Varsity staff who is not in the habit of attending formal lectures has a legitimate complaint.

Just before Christmas a friendly well-wisher told this staffer that there was an examination coming up in one of his courses. Much against his better judgment he got up in the morning—and wrote the exam.

When the professor posted the list of results the staffer's name was among those above the line. Now he is complaining that he has learned since that the test he tried was in a course that he will not take until next year—if he passes. His deathless quote: "I wondered why it was so tough."

Choral Group, McGill Band At Carnival

One of the highlights of the Winter Carnival ice show, to be staged in the Montreal Forum on February 18th, will be the singing of the Choral Society and the playing of the McGill University Band.

The Winter Carnival Executive has asked the Band to turn out in force for the Friday night spectacle, and a special block of seats will be reserved in the mezzanine section of the Forum for Band members. The first of two practices will be held at 8.15 p.m. on Monday, February 7th, in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

Present members of the Band and all McGill students who possess musical ability should not miss this opportunity of helping to make this Forum Night a success.

Squash Squad Begins Second Tournament

The second Intramural Squash Tournament begins today. The contestants consist of the top sixteen players from the ladder, and the semi-finalists from the previous tournament.

Ham Quain has been seeded first and will play T. Scobie at 5.15. Two other matches at 5.15 are G. Goodall vs. J. Morrison and P. Haller vs. H. Sheldon.

6.45 p.m. will see the start of the matches between A. R. Creapault and Mike Measures, D. Atkin and J. Mackay, T. Bliss, A. Baxter. Last but not by any means least, D. Calderon will meet D. Bourke at 6.15. It is hoped that all the contestants will be ready to play on schedule.

Chemical Engineers Visit Distillers Corp.

Continuing its policy of obtaining the practical as well as theoretical aspects of Chemical Engineering, fourth year members of the McGill Student Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers made a visit to the Ville LaSalle plant of Distillers Corporation.

Guided by two members of the plants engineering staff, the group followed the brew through from the original grain to the bottling plant where the finished product was packed for the market.

Dawson Athletics Night Features Basketball, Volleyball, Fl. Hockey

This Friday night, Feb. 11th will mark the first Dawson College Athletics Night of the season. The event is being run by the Dawson Students' Athletics Council, who are responsible for the athletics program at Dawson.

In organizing this athletics night, the members of the council have arranged a representative program of the major sports at Dawson, including Basketball, Volleyball, Floor-Hockey, Ice-Hockey, and Gymnastics. Following the sports events will be a sleighride, refreshments and dancing in the gym.

Admission will be 50 cents for Dawsonites, while girls' tickets which include transportation are being sold at a dollar a piece. It had been originally planned to charge Dawsonites 75 cents, but a grant from the Dawson S.E.C. permitted the reduction of admission.

Here is an outline of the sports evening: Basketball... The Dawson Senior M.B.L. squad will meet a powerful aggregation from south of the border; the fast-breaking Rouses Point Aces. Fresh from their recent tilt with the Y.M.H.A. and the Montrealers, the Dawson "Red and Blue" perform in high style, making this a spectacular contest.

Volley-Ball... The Dawson "Golden Greys" will tackle the Central Y.M.C.A. in a Montreal Volley-Ball League game. Thus far the Dawson crew have won three and lost one in league competition. The Y.M.C.A. squad is one of the best teams in the city, and though they have lost to Dawson twice in the league games, both tilts were very close.

Floor Hockey... This gory tilt will feature the All-Star teams of McGill and Dawson, locked in bloody battle. In past years the Dawson marauders have overwhelmed the luckless McGill aggregations by overwhelming scores. Last year the Dawson champs, Moysse Boys, defeated the McGill champs, Combines, 18-4, in a two game total point series. There is every indication that the same pattern will be followed this year as Dawson will present one of the most powerful outfits to ever tilt the felt.

Ice Hockey... The first-place Dawson Int. CIAU squad will take on the McGill Int. CIAU outfit in an exhibition tilt to be played under the lights at the Dawson rink. Coach Bill Ransome anticipates another win for the Dawson "Dynamos." Following the hockey tilt the ice will be available to all who wish to skate.

Gymnastics... Chuck Murdoch's gym crew will demon-

BC Drama Contest Sponsored By UBC

British Columbia playwright got the signal to start polishing off their dramas when the Western Canada Theatre Conference gave the word for a one-act playwrights' competition. The conference announced regulations for the 1949 competition which stipulated that entries may be obtained from the U.B.C. Extension Department and must all be in by May 1st.

CASH AWARDS

Cash awards of $25 to $100 have in the past gone largely to B.C. playwrights, but the Department revealed that extra-provincial entries are admissible.

In disclosing the contest, the conference expressed the hope that a fine showing of Canadian drama would be forthcoming. The official voice of the conference said, as a word to the public, "Only if we encourage our most promising playwrights by the actual production of their plays, will they continue to write, and develop a really fine body of Canadian plays."

Skiing Team Ready For Carnival Meet

As the results pour in from another good week-end of ski races, the ski committee of the Winter Carnival noted with satisfaction yesterday afternoon that many of the prominent winners will be performing at the Carnival.

McGill men made a great showing over the week-end with Jack "Porky" Griffin winning the slalom event in the International collegiate ski meet at Banff Alberta. Jack paced his teammates to a third placed position. Frank Fleming also showed very well placing seventh in the combined Downhill and Slalom.

Travelling east we come to Montreal and find that Redman John Draper topped all in the Montreal Ski Jumping Championships Sunday at Cote des Neiges.

More good news came from North Hatley where the intermediates swept all before them, in winning the Intercollegiate - Intermediate honours. Andy Huggessen was outstanding for the winners capturing the Four-way crown.

The McGill cross-country and jumping team was announced and consists of John Draper, Bob Tilden, Andy Huggessen, and Bill Dawson.

Universite de Montreal's coach, Criss Gribbison is very happy with the showing of his two four event men Andre Senecal, and Guy Gerin-Lajole who placed one-two at the Buldy Zone ski meet.

From Canton New York came word that little St. Lawrence University had come through to win their own Winter Carnival. It was coach Otto Shneib's protege Ray McIntyre who provided the impetus for the Larries win by winning the jumping and Downhill and placing high in the slalom and cross country. Teammate Ray Mulvihill of Ottawa placed second in the slalom to clinch the victory for the St. Lawrence team.

University of Toronto promises us a strong team coached by Russ Smart. Bud Wood, who placed third in the slalom event at the St. Lawrence University Winter Carnival will be along as well as Jake Howard, and George Kent.

A new entry was received from Maine University. Ski men on the campus will remember how prominent the Maine-men were in the McGill sponsored I.S.U. meet two years ago. Dave Newton and Charlie Barr pace the squad.

Other entries include the powerful Dartmouth team coached by famous Walter Prager, Middlebury, New Hampshire, Vermont Laval, and Amherst.

Johnnie Birkett, chairman of the ski committee announced yesterday that there was a "slight possibility" that members of the French Olympic Ski Team might act as forerunners in the slalom and downhill events. Names such as Henri Oreiller, Couttet and Blanc are familiar to every skier. Again it is emphasised, that this is only a possibility.

This week-end saw the M.O.C. extending welcome to approximately 60 members and 6 visiting Harvard Skiers. During meal hours the house was so crowded there was hardly any floor space left, and when the time for retiring came around, there was a rush for the table which does provide a comfortable bed when spread with an inflated mattress.

On Saturday the skiing conditions on both the Station Hill and the Big Hill, were perfect. By five the house began to fill up with sore arms, aching backs, pleasantly painful legs, and one broken ankle belonging to Denny Gadois. Three cheers to Denny, who proved to be a brave little soul and Win, who saw to her comfort. After a delicious meal of a chop suey version of spaghetti and meat balls, John Bishop rounded up a few stalwarts for skating. Others wandered up to the Hotel for dancing and refreshments, but the majority remained at the house to play bridge, chat or listen to Beethoven. Coffee made its appearance at about 10, and so did Neil and his guitar. A sing-song followed and lasted till midnight.

On Sunday morning an additional crowd of about 20 stopped off at the house. Some went on to St. Sauveur, others joined John Bishop's cross-country ski tour. It was a beautiful run but Betty Watt did not think so. It

Conditioning Classes Commencing At Gym

"Sorry, just haven't the time for inter-mural sports, but sure wish that there were a few conditioning classes at the gym" is the excuse for those certain dubious quantities that dot the campus, still not knowing what the inside of Sir Arthur Currie Gym looks like.

However, this is a thing of the past now, as Conditioning classes are being held every Monday and Wednesday at four. For those of you who are not getting exercise regularly, these classes are just what the doctor ordered, consisting of a variety of exercises and games.

So let's make use of those free periods at 4.00 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday at the small gym to get those kinks out of us and really enjoy life.

Bridge Tourney

nament was held at the Hart House in Toronto over the week-end. Eight colleges consisting of McGill, Toronto, Carleton, Ottawa U., Queen's, Ajax, McMaster and Western were represented. There were 34 pairs in the open pairs which was won by McMaster on Friday night. Two McGill pairs placed 6th and 7th respectively. The team-of-four event was won by Queen's. There were 17 teams in this event.

Despite a bad session, on Saturday afternoon, the McGill team of Hum-Allison, Gilmour-Bindman finished strongly in the evening session by placing second. Their combined effort in the two sessions placed them 7th in the final standing.

The tournament was well directed by Mr. P. E. Sheardwn.

CHORAL SOCIETY

We're having an informal party after our Choral practice this Wednesday. The entertainment will feature movies and recordings, and the plan for the picnic lunch is as follows: — The men are to provide coffee and cocoa and the Sopranos and Altos are asked to bring sandwiches, with something extra to keep one Tenor or Bass from starvation (We suggest one or two soda crackers.) Don't forget, the party is tomorrow!

Effect of Romance Debated at Varsity

Toronto — (CUP) The decision that "Romance is incompatible with a college education" was reached recently in a debate at Toronto Varsity.

One speaker declared that romance was an escape from reality. She attacked romance as opposed to love, as a "bestial corrupting emotion." She warned the audience, "Let yourself go—and you're gone!" She in turn was branded as a potential frustrated old maid. This speaker said that romance gave and McGill. Mr. McMeekin and Mr. Salter will be at McGill from February 26 to the 28.

In the popular mind the practice of the law is still associated with the courts. In fact, only a small percentage of the total of legal work is done in the courts or originates in disputes or controversy.

Under the heading of "Legal Education" the Council will consider existing facilities in Canada and elsewhere; pre-legal education and admission to study; types of student attracted to the law school; curricula; "practical training"; post-graduate work in law schools; relationship between the Bar and the University; continuing education of the Bar; research centres and libraries; encouragement to legal research and writing;

Newman Club Reveals Final Voting Results

The results of the elections held for the Newman Club Executive were published today after three recounts, necessitated by the closeness of the balloting for the various positions.

Elected to the Executive for the year ending February, 1950, were the following: Rolland Laprairie, President; Mary Tansey, Vice-president for women; Ted Fox, Vice-president for men; George Joly, Treasurer; Rita Carriere, Alan Hanley and Vince Kavanagh as Councillors.

This executive will take over immediately, replacing that ably led by Eric Barry who did not run for re-election.

The election created widespread interest, indicated by the fact that the balloting was the heaviest in the club's history.

The new executive will hold its first meeting at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, February 15th, at Newman House.

C.U.R.M.A. Students Differ With Paper

Edmonton — (CUP) — The Canadian University Returned Men's Association will ask their Student's Council to recall "Gateway" Editor-in-Chief Dick Sherbaniuk from his position. The Gateway is the University of Alberta's newspaper. CURMA's president, Dave Bell, was given permission at a recent meeting, to prepare a brief asking for the resignation.

The resignation will be asked for, because members felt that their organization has not been receiving enough publicity in The Gateway. Bell's complaint against The Gateway was "Lack of coverage of any material being presented to The Gateway for publication. Material was submitted and was very severely slashed". Bell also stated that "If we've got to have this kind of Gateway, it's better we don't have one at all".

Sherbaniuk commented that it was The Gateway's policy of giving fullest coverage to news which is of interest to the majority of students, and still give publicity to the various minority groups on the campus.

P.C. AMENDMENT:

Delete everything after the first "Whereas", to be replaced by:

Whereas the well-being of Canada depends on the health and fitness of its citizens, and

Whereas the full benefits of a social security scheme are only obtainable in an atmosphere of full and equal co-operation of all the parties concerned, not fettered by Socialistic controls, and

Whereas the question of life insurance is inseparable from an over all social security scheme.

Therefore be it resolved that this House enact legislation to:

Plans to write a book are also included in the versatile Dean's prospectus, which project he believes will be an early history of engineering in Canada.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

1889  1949

The pioneer woman made her own soap. Water seeping through wood ashes in a barrel or piece of hollow log, produced lye. Soap was made by boiling this lye with fat in an iron kettle. In the soap plants of today, soap is made by boiling vegetable oils with caustic soda (lye). Salt is added to cause the excess alkali and by-products to settle to the bottom. Lye and salt corrode most metal vessels. Corrosion affects the color, purity and keeping qualities of soap. So most vessels and containers are made of Nickel alloys. They resist corrosion, last longer, protect the purity and color of the soap.

Nickel Brings Dollars to Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year. These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.
